SHOWING OF LADIES AUXILIARY

A decided stand by the Ancient Order of Hibernians toward the downing of Socialism in the United States and the furtherance of the study of Gaelic by Irish-Americans were features of the annual convention of the A. O. H., which opened Tuesday in Chicago. A strong sermon denouncing Socialism by Bishop John P. Carroll, of Helena, Mont., marked the first exercises of the convention, a solemn Pontifical high mass at the Holy Name Cathedral, at which Archbishop Quigley officiated, assisted by the Rev. D. J. Dunne, the Rev. W. J. McNamara and the Rev. M. O'Sullivan. The delegates, 1,200 in number, attended in a body.

Bishop Carroll, the National Chaplain, in his sermon urged the Irish in America to stand with the Catholic church in its fight against Socialism. "Socialism is the greatest danger confronting this country," said the bishop. "Every Irish soul should burn with indignation at the proposition that this doctrine sets forth for acceptance. Socialism would deprive him of everything that any real Irishman holds dear and would bring him back to conditions that existed in Ireland a century ago. In the name of religion, for the sake of your homes and for this grand and glorious country, which we love as we do our lives, I ask you to combat the evils of Socialism, which would finally wreck the country."

He also praised the A. O. H. for voting $25,000 to the Catholic Church Extension Society. Immediately after the services the delegates were taken to the Hotel La Salle.

James J. Regan, of St. Paul, National President of the organization, opened the convention shortly after noon. Committees were appointed and the Executive Committee held a short session at the Hotel La Salle later. In the evening the Chicago divisions gave a ball to the delegates and their wives at the Robert Emmet Hall, when more than 2,500 attended.

The convention has filled Chicago with some of the nation's prettiest women. The women are members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Irish-American organization and are meeting in the Hotel La Salle. After the convention was called to order Wednesday the report of the Credentials Committee was read and the delegates, numbering more than 1,000, were seated. Committees were then to be formed.

"If you want to help Ireland, patronize Irish industries, but don't get the idea that the old country is seeking charity," was the keynote of an address delivered by Father M. O'Flanagan, of Ireland.

The Committee on Constitutional Amendment will be one of the most important bodies at the convention. It has the task of recommending the best form of a national insurance benefit. Some of the State divisions of the body already have insurance. The insurance schemes of the organization in Illinois, Michigan, Massachusetts and Minnesota will be given thorough consideration.

The ability of women to successfully conduct an organization and to legislate for themselves was held to be incontrovertible by Miss Anna C. Wall, of Scranton, Pa., who spoke before the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the Hotel La Salle. Miss Wall has been President of the Ladies' Auxiliary since it was started. "From a membership of 30,000 when the auxiliary started out membership today is at least 60,000, or more than double what it had attained during the eleven years prior to our procuring our own legislation," said Miss Wall. "I trust that for all time any doubts entertained by those who were pessimistic as to the ability of the ladies to legislate for themselves will now be laid to rest."

John W. Rainey, assistant to the Probate Judge, and Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court, acted as toastmaster at the banquet at the Auditorium Thursday night. The real work of the convention began with the reports of the committees on Thursday, a full account of which will appear in next week's issue.

USEFUL LIFE ENDED.

A useful and well spent life was brought to a close Wednesday morning when God called James B. McCollum to his eternal reward. The deceased had always been interested in the growth of this city, and was highly esteemed in its business and social circles. Born in Ireland eighty-five years ago, he came to this country when a young man. Coming to Louisville he engaged in the brick manufacturing business, from which he retired some years ago on account of his age. James McCollum was a faithful Catholic and in years gone by was a moving spirit in a number of societies. He is survived by eight sons, James, John, William, Samuel, Sol, Thomas, Robert and Louis McCollum, and two daughters, Mrs. Mollie Parsons and Mrs. Edward Brady. His funeral was held yesterday morning from St. Mary Magdalene church, Father Gausepohl officiating at the mass, and in his sermon he paid a deserved tribute to the exemplary life led by the deceased.

HANDSOME

Will Be the Float of the Columbia Athletic Club.

A happy feeling prevailed Tuesday night at the meeting of the Columbia Athletic Club, largely due to the splendid attendance, the victory of the American athletes at Stockholm, and the progress now being made with the handsome float for the Catholic Federation parade. President Sevens, officiating in the chair and the Board of Directors submitted a very gratifying report. William Dennes exhibited the design for the float and the plan outlined for the Columbia Athletic Club, which promises a surprise. The Secretary's report showed that interest in the club was increasing and that the building fund was sufficient to meet payments when due. Several interesting talks were made, during which attention was called to the improvements made in the house and the comforts installed for the members. Messrs. Will Larkin, Peter Koch and William Meehan were appointed members of a committee to confer with Col. Joseph McGinn and Harry Veeman as to the programme for the reception to be tendered the Supreme officers of the Catholic Knights of America during the Federation convention next month. Upon motion it was decided to give another outing before cold weather for the members and their families, the committee that arranged the last one being reappointed. Will Holley, W. T. Meehan and the editor of the Kentucky Irish American were called upon and spoke words of encouragement for the club and its splendid home.

FRANKFORT.

Delightful Entertainment
Provided by Knights of Columbus.

The Knights of Columbus of Frankfort are providing delightful entertainment for the people of the Capital City. Thursday night of last week Frankfort Council tendered one of the most enjoyable receptions ever given to about 300 members of the Church of the Good Shepherd. A splendid vocal and instrumental musical programme was rendered, followed by a bounteous luncheon. Next comes the Fair dance, to be held at the Frankfort Hotel ball room next Wednesday when the music will be furnished by the Second Regiment band. Invitations have been sent all over the State and it is thought there will be many Knights at the fair, which is one of the best in Kentucky.

Frankfort Council will also entertain the people of Frankfort some Sunday in the near future with a boat ride up the historic Kentucky river, going as far as High Bridge. This will be a really pleasant day for those fortunate enough to be the guests of the Knights.

Knights throughout Kentucky will be gratified to learn that Louis Schorff, the genial Frankfort Secy, who has been quite sick, is much improved. His host of friends hope to see him completely recovered when he returns from a two weeks' stay at the springs.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Membership Committee
Provides a Delightful
Musical.

A delightful and appreciated event of the week occurred Tuesday evening, when the Membership Committee entertained Trinity Council, Y. M. C., and its friends and prospective candidates with a musical given at the club house and participated in by some of the best vocal and instrumental talent in the city. The programme was arranged by Phil W. Hager, and every number proved highly pleasing to the large audience. Trinity proposes to make these affairs frequent among its social doings in order to keep up the already enthusiastic interest. The council has already determined to give another opera, and when the cooler weather arrives active work of preparation will begin.

INJURIES NOT SERIOUS.

Sunday afternoon Ferdinand Quill, messenger boy for the Western Union, was hit by a street car at Rightsohn and Jefferson, receiving painful cuts and bruises. The boy was removed to Dr. Borman's office, where his injuries were dressed, when he was conveyed to the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Quill, 2017 Griffith avenue. This is the third accident in this family within a year, the other two proving fatal. Dan Quill, the father, was killed in a runaway accident, and a brother was drowned when his boat overturned in the canal about a month ago.

trolling Spirits of New A.
P. A. Movement.

DAVID B. G. ROSE TURNS HOUND

Following the complaint lodged by E. J. Cooney, of Providence, R. I., the President of the Catholic Press Association, to the Post Office Department, Washington, against Postmaster Robert E. Woods, of Louisville, and his assistant, John G. Morey, for participating and taking a prominent part in the Guardians of Liberty meeting here recently, the weak and feeble apologies of these two as contained in the report of C. P. Grandfield, First Assistant Postmaster General, are interesting. Mr. Cooney's attention had been called to the matter by the publication in the Kentucky Irish American, which also contained the severe editorial criticism of the Louisville Herald of the whole Guardian of Liberty movement, and especially the action of the two Federal officials. Following is the statement mailed to Mr. Cooney by the Washington authorities:

Mr. Edward J. Cooney, President Catholic Press Association, Providence, R. I.—Sir: With reference to your letter of the tenth in regard to the report that the Postmaster and the Assistant Postmaster at Louisville, Ky., had participated in the formation of a branch of the Guardians of Liberty, you are informed that the matter has been taken up with the officials in question. The Postmaster reports that the meeting which he attended was presided over by one of the foremost citizens, that he arrived late at the hall, which was crowded, and that he was invited to a seat on the platform, that he did not participate in the formation of a branch of the Guardians of Liberty, and that he was a sole participant in the same.

It was said, however, that he never at any time been a member of the A. P. A. organization and that he has never been a member of the Guardians of Liberty. The Assistant Postmaster reports that he did attend a meeting held under the auspices of the Guardians of Liberty, at which Gen. Nelson A. Miles spoke, that he did not at that time participate in the organization of a branch of the order and that it is his information that no organization was effected at that meeting.

Postmaster Woods neglects to state in his statement that the foremost citizen (Andrew Cowan) repudiated the A. P. A. movement in the daily press two days after, and that the other prominent citizens, ex-Mayor Charles P. Weaver and Chief Elmore Tyson, stated to the Kentucky Irish American that they were inveigled there under false pretenses and had no sympathy for the Guardian of Liberty movement. Neither Woods or Morey, the servants of the public, which includes Catholic citizens, ever offered any explanation of their presence or why so many of the employees under them were present on that occasion, neither did they explain that admission was by card only and why so many in the Post Office department were possessors of those cards.

This past week the Guardians of Liberty announced the list of their officers as follows: Charles D. Haines, Chief Commodore; Lieut. Gen. Miles, Chief Commodore; Major Gen. Sikes, Chief Commodore; Rear Admiral G. W. Baird, Chief Vigilant; and Rev. A. E. Barnett, D. D., Chief Recorder. Among the list of "National Counselors," and the only one from the South, is that of David B. G. Rose, who was prominently identified with the Miles speaking here. Rose is vice president of the Evening Post and business partner of Edward Gotschalk, member of the Board of Education, in the Standard Printing Company. It is rumored that National Counselor Rose was busy this present week in trying to organize a branch of the Guardians in South Louisville. This busy gentleman seems to have forgotten the teachings of the late Rabbi Adolph Moses, a member of his own race, and who was highly esteemed by the Catholic clergy and laity during his lifetime. It is related that when the A. P. A. movement was at the pinnacle of one of its spasmodic revivals here years ago Rabbi Moses was importuned to lend his aid in persecution of the Catholics and delivered the following scathing reply: "No sir, I have been a hound too long to turn hound now."

PLAN BIG MEET.

Preparations are under way for a monster meeting in Ulmer Park on Sunday, August 16, of the Irish Nationalists of Brooklyn, and other American friends of home rule for Ireland. The occasion will be the greeting to William H. K. Redmond, Irish member of Parliament, and one other, possibly Joseph Devlin, M. P., who are coming to this country for the regular biennial Irish convention to be held in Philadelphia in September. The United Irish League, the A. O. H. and the Gaelic societies are working together to make the reception to the Irish delegates from Parliament the biggest thing in the history of big meetings in Brooklyn.

POSTPONED

Catholic Knights Celebration Will Take Place
July 29.

Owing to the downpour of rain last Monday night, the date for the annual celebration of the Catholic Knights of America at Poylaine Ferry Park was changed to Monday, July 29. Manager Blier and Chairman Oscar Maier will then present all the features previously arranged for and will add a number of entirely new attractions. The postponement will give the Catholic Knights of the Falls Cities opportunity to arouse a greater interest for this occasion, when it is hoped to record the season's biggest crowd at Pontine Ferry Park. The tickets and coupons that have been issued will be good for the 29th.

BRITISHERS

Humiliated by the Wretched Showing of Their Athletes.

The wretched showing, made by British athletes in the Olympic games has caused intense bitterness and humiliation in England. At the beginning the British correspondents at Stockholm sought to explain away the defeats of their men by insinuating in some cases, or openly charging in others, unfairness against the judges, and sharp practice against their conquerors.

It is a bitter confession that Great Britain, the original source of modern athletics, should have to humbly sit at the feet of Jim Sullivan and Mike Murphy and begin to learn the rudiments of training, but it represents in summary form the conclusion reached by W. Beach Thomas, ex-President of the Oxford University Athletic Club, in a two-column special article to the Daily Mail, written after his visit to Stockholm.

The pride of every Englishman, he says, is daily called in to great concourse of nations, and by what he sees and hears he will be provoked to say that the

ENTHUSED

Mackin Council Preparing For Two Important Events.

Mackin Council members were enthused Monday night when Rev. Father Martin Wettskamp addressed the meeting, urging the members to take every possible interest in the Catholic Federation convention and make a splendid showing in the great parade. He also spoke on other matters and gave the young men some excellent advice. Attention was also called to the preparations being made by Santo Council and the Catholics of the city when the Y. M. C. Grand Council meets in Owensboro the first week in August. Arrangements have been made for a special train over the Henderson Route to convey the large crowd that will accompany the Louisville delegates. The meeting Monday night will be rather important, as delayed business will be transacted and the convention programme announced.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Martin Graham, son of Mrs. Margaret Graham, 2115 Griffiths avenue, was held Tuesday morning from St. Cecilia's church. The deceased was thirty-one years of age, and his death followed a long illness of tuberculosis. Besides his mother he leaves a brother and several sisters.

Friends and relatives were deeply grieved last Saturday when they learned that death had claimed Virginia, the infant daughter of Assistant Fire Chief Michael Cassin. The child had been ill for several days suffering from spasms, which baffled all that love and skill could do for her. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Cassell, beloved wife of Jacob Cassell, 623 North Twenty-first street, was held from St. Cecilia's church Wednesday morning. Mrs. Cassell had been ill for several weeks from a complication of diseases, and everything possible was done for her without avail. Besides the deceased husband she leaves an infant son.

Following an illness with which she was stricken Sunday night Katherine Gahafer, the seven-year-old daughter of Henry J. Gahafer, expired Monday morning at the family residence on the River road near the city limits. The little one was playing about her home Sunday afternoon and evening in the best of health, and her death was an awful shock to the parents and relatives. Her funeral was held Wednesday, the interment being in St. Louis cemetery.

REASONS

Why the Catholic Church Services Are Conducted in Latin.

Father Bampffield Relates Argument With Amiable Non-Catholic.

Unchanging Sacrifice Is Cause and Guide of Catholic Devotion.

THE CHRISTIANITY OF CHRIST

Nothing puzzles some non-Catholics so much, in reference to matters Catholic, as the fact that our church services should be rendered by far the greater part in Latin. Father George Bampffield, of the Oratory, deals with the matter in one of the Catholic Truth publications, and tells of his argument with an amiable, if heavy-headed, non-Catholic on this particular subject. The Protestant complained that the choir sang in Latin, the priest sang in Latin and "spoke low, as if he did not want anyone to hear him" when he prayed. Father Bampffield had a hard task to point out that, despite the Latin, the less educated of the Catholic congregations understood the mass far better than the Protestants understood their English prayers. The non-Catholic admitted willingly that the Catholic church seemed to welcome and attract the poor.

In the first place, Father Bampffield said, there was no use in the mass being recited or sung in English; and in the second place, there was much use in it being sung in Latin. In celebrating the mass, the priest is not only praying, he is doing a work which is greater than prayer, and the people join him in the work he is doing. The one great act of the priest performs is a sacrifice, as ordained by God; for nowhere is it read that he ordered the people to use personally any particular form of prayers; each man said his own according to his heart, his grief, his joy or his hope.

The priest sacrificed. Second, to feed upon certain parts of the Victim. They therefore joined with the priest in his act, but did not join with him in any public prayer said relating to that act. It consequently matters not what the language be which the priest may use at the altar; what the people join in is the great act of worship, not any form of prayer.

The non-Catholic persisted in his inquiries, and asked why Latin should be the tongue actually used. He was told that in prayer the words and feeling or sentiment are all; but in sacrifice the thing done counts for most, the words said being of secondary importance. The sacrifice must be the same for all; the prayer may be different for each according to his disposition. Catholics are not poor in prayers in the English tongue, a fact that is shown by another fact, namely, that all the good parts of the Protestant common prayer book are bodily taken from Catholic sources, and much altered. Unlike the Protestant church services, moreover, of which the non-Catholic would have had the best part, part changes day by day, the Catholic sacrifice does not change. It is the same day by day, and only the gospel of the day varies. The same unchanging sacrifice is the cause and guide of the intensity of Catholic devotion, and the liberty given the Catholic to pray during the sacrifice as he wishes, makes the same worship ever new.

Since the universality of the church is one of her characteristics, it is only fitting that the devotion rendered in the course of the act of sacrifice should be universal and given everywhere in one and the same tongue. So men, gathered as on the day of Pentecost from all nations under heaven in one monastery, or in one church, can not only be present at the same sacrifice because it is an act in which they all join, but can join in the same psalm and the same prayers in the very same tongue to which they were used each in his own land. Clearly this is good for both layman and priest. The priest who is ordered away to China at a moment's notice can say his mass just as quietly when he arrives there. It would puzzle a non-Catholic clergyman, however, to read his prayers in any other but his native tongue. To this the non-Catholic assented.

There is a greater reason, however, as Father Bampffield insisted: Christianity, he told the non-Catholic, is no longer Christianity if it be changed. Christianity added to, or Christianity taken from, is not the Christianity of Christ. The care of the truth is the great and the first duty of the Society of Christ—the Catholic church. It follows then that the fixed, if dead, language suits best the purpose of the church; the meaning of each word is established and can not alter. What Clero meant when first he spoke the words in the Senate at Rome, what St. Jerome and St. Augustine meant—that same is meant today, and will be meant when the world ends. What an English-speaking Catholic means by the Latin word, that the Frenchman means, and also the Italian, the Austrian, the Hindoo and Jap who are acquainted with Latin. All who know living languages are aware how the meanings of words vary in different ages, in Chaucer, for example, it is very hard to follow the language without notes, and the French of Rabelais is very far from the French of Chateaubriand. By the use of Latin, a fixed and settled language, the doctrine of the church is embalmed in one unchanging tongue—as unchangeable as the doctrine. Hence, no wrong idea can be brought by the growth of the language into the first Christianity taught; and in this we have another reason why Latin is best. Latin was the language of Europe, and because Europe has spread itself, by its peoples, throughout the world, Latin is the best of the world-wide tongues that have died.

DAY SET

For Cornerstone Laying of St. Brigid's New Church.

Sunday, July 28, will be a memorable day for the Catholics of the Highlands, for on the evening of that day the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue will lay the cornerstone of the new St. Brigid's church, being erected by the Rev. Father Herman W. Jansen. The ceremony will take place at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Father Schumann, D. D., preaching the sermon. Besides the local clergy there will be present priests from all parts of the diocese. This is the fourth church erected by Father Jansen, and the new St. Brigid's will be one of the finest in this part of the country, will stand as a monument to him and his flock. The design of St. Brigid's is a combination of French and Italian Renaissance by Architect A. Curtin. The building will be of white brick with white stone and antique marble. The outer dimensions are 70x140 feet. The bell tower will be placed on the rear of the building, the boys' society and priests' sacristy being placed on either side of the sanctuary. In the basement there will be an assembly room 31x55 feet, and when completed the church will be perfect in every detail. Father Jansen is indeed a church builder, and in Paducah they tell the story that he waited there until those of other denominations had been built, who proceeded to show them that St. Brigid's would be erected.

INITIATION

Hibernians to Soon Confer Degrees on Large Class.

Despite the downpour of rain and the absence of a number of the Chicago convention Division 2, A. O. H., held a well attended meeting Monday night, those present receiving the praise of President Hourigan and the officers for their spirit and interest in the division. One application was received and with others will be reported at the next meeting. Vice President Maloney announced that arrangements were being completed for an initiation in the near future, when the large class now awaiting would receive the three degrees of the order. Secretary Stevens read a communication from Barney Egan, who has been spending several months in Ireland, that set forth conditions in the Green Isle and contained much interesting information. Attorney Lawrence Mackey reported the proceedings of the Catholic Federation, and Secretary John Hession stated that the Ancient Order would have a beautiful float and that every Hibernian in the Falls Cities would be expected to march behind the Hibernian banner in the great parade on August 18. After the routine business had been cared for questions pertaining to the future of Division 2 and the order were earnestly discussed by Tom Quinn, Philip Cavanagh, John Maloney, Martin Sheehan, William Lawler and others.

VINCENTIANS.

General Communion at St.
Martin's Sunday Morning.

Tomorrow morning members of all the Louisville conferences of the St. Vincent de Paul society will attend the mass at St. Martin's church at 7:30 o'clock and make their general communion. This is the event of the year among the Vincentians, as it brings together a large body of representative and practical men. Being the first visitation the Vincentians have made to St. Martin's, it is to be hoped all the members will be present. In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the quarterly meeting will be held in the hall of the Knights of Columbus, 816 Fourth avenue. This will also be another large gathering, and will be made interesting by the presence of Father Donahue, of the Cathedral, and a number of the clergy.

IRISH CAN BOAST.

It is interesting to know that the grandfather of the Hon. Woodrow Wilson was an Irishman. Gov. Marshall's middle name is Riley, which suggests that he is of Irish extraction. The population of Ireland has decreased more than 75,000 in the last ten years.

PREPARATIONS

For Catholic Federation Convention
Continue With Uninterrupted Interest.

Music Lovers' Feature Will Be the Grand Choral Concert
At Armory.

Parade Will Be Grandest Pageant
Ever Witnessed in the Southland.

SOUVENIR BOOK IN PRESS

Preparations for the eleventh annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies continued during the week with unabated interest notwithstanding the intensely hot weather. The ardor of the officers and committeemen in charge was, if anything, increased by the hot spell. Every succeeding day gives the Jefferson County Federation of the Catholic Societies renewed hope that the convention will be as largely attended as at first anticipated and even more so. Reports received this week from parishes are very encouraging. Although all of the congregations have not yet reported, sufficient official information has been received to indicate that the parade on Sunday, August 18, will be the grandest pageant ever witnessed in the city.

Another feature, and which music lovers will rejoice to hear of, is the choral concert which is to be given at the Armory on Monday night following the opening of the convention. In this concert 500 trained voices will participate. Nearly every Catholic choir in the city is assisting and contributing voices, and many outside singers have volunteered their services. The singers are now being rehearsed under the direction of Prof. Anthony Molecraft, and rehearsals are being held every Friday night at St. Boniface school hall. At the last rehearsal about 200 voices participated. It is requested that members of Catholic choirs and others attend the next rehearsal and succeeding ones. This concert is a grand musical event.

Throughout the sale of combination books, the Convention Committee has been decided that holders of these books will be allowed two reserved seats at the Armory mass meetings and at the choral concert for each book held. While the sale of combination books has been large, it is believed this favor will increase the sale of these books. Those who purchase them will also be entitled to a chance in the prizes.

The following congregations have reported the complement of persons and floats they will have in the parade: St. Martin's, float and 300 to 500 men; Holy Trinity, float, 100 men; St. Aloysius, float, and fifty men; St. Ann's, float, three carriages, 100 men; St. Brigid's, float, fifty boys; St. Vincent de Paul, float, 125 men, two carriages, twelve horsemen; St. Boniface, float, 300 men; St. John's, float, 150 men, school children in vehicles; St. Joseph, float, and will report number of men at next meeting; St. Patrick's, float, 500 men, twenty-five carriages; St. Peter's, float, band; Cecelia, float, 200 men, school children in fourteen or sixteen wagons; St. Charles Borromeo, float, will report number of men later; St. Helen's, 100 men on horseback; St. Augustine's, 100 men, brass band; St. Francis of Rome, 100 men, several carriages; St. Louis Bertrand, float, 500 men from Holy Name Society; St. Michael's, float and carriages; Presentation Academy, float; St. Elizabeth, float, will report number of men at later date; St. Francis of Assisi, sixty men on horseback; Holy Cross, two floats, four chariots, pony carts, twenty-five men. The organizations will have the following: Y. M. C., float, 500 men; Columbia Athletic Club, float, 100 men; Order of the Sons of the American Revolution, float, 100 men, drum corps; Ancient Order of Hibernians, float or band; Ladies' Auxiliary of Ancient Order of Hibernians, float and carriages; Knights of Columbus, float, band, will report number of men later; Catholic Knights of America, float.

Everything indicates that the parade will be a grand event, the like of which was never before seen in Louisville. There is great interest in the parade, although it is but one of the subordinate features of the great convention. It has been suggested that it is not yet too late for the congregations who have not yet arranged to have representation in the parade to make such arrangements, as the expense is small.

The souvenir book, the matter for which was prepared by Mr. Edward Fitzpatrick, has gone to press, and will be ready for distribution by July 26 at the latest. There is much interest in this publication, and those who have seen the proof sheets of the historic and other sketches written by Mr. Fitzpatrick say the book will be a very interesting volume, worthy of preservation in any library.

THE RED MENACE.

Replying to Tom Watson and others, C. A. Windle, non-Catholic and editor of Brann's Iconoclast, thus disposes of the slanderous charge that the Catholic church is the greatest menace to American liberty and institutions:

Rev. Teddy C. Walker, of Aurora, Mo., edits a dirty little rag which he calls The Menace. The brat was sired by Tom Watson and damned by Danie Bigotry. The sheet is all that its name implies. It is a menace to decency—a menace to peace and order—a menace to true Americanism—a menace to the spirit of fraternity. It breeds bitterness and strife between neighbors and converts life-long friends into enemies. Its columns reek with slander. Every page is a seething cesspool, in which writhe and wriggle hell-born lies. Some of these hissing serpents of hate are hoary with age, while a few appear to have just crawled out of the slimy brain of Rev. Teddy Walker. Some men are born ahead of their time, but Walker is about 400 years behind his proper schedule. He is as much out of place in this electric age of universal tolerance, fraternity, equality and liberty as a reprobate would be in a Dakota wheat field, or a flintlock on a modern battleship.

He insists that Catholics of 1912 shall be held responsible for the acts of their ancestors in the "Dark Ages." If it is fair to hold twentieth century Catholics responsible for the reign of Queen Mary, it would be equally just to hold modern Protestants responsible for the crimes of Henry VIII, and condemn all Presbyterians as inhuman monsters because Calvin burned Servetus at the stake. The Catholic church of today is, like all other churches, made up from the living generations. None of them can be justly charged with the errors or credited with the virtue of past generations.

find his ancestors clad in the skins of wild beasts, the blood of their enemies dripping from their chops, their priests sacrificing little children upon the altars of imaginary gods. Yet it would hardly be fair to Walker to say that he would cause his own children to perish in Moloch's arms of flame, or glory in watching Druid priests pile like cordwood on blood-drenched altars, though he is so uncivilized that he would gladly rob others of their civil, personal and religious liberty. Catholics would no more think of turning backward the dial of Progress than Protestants. The era of persecution cannot be recalled any more than you could restore the stone age, and compel people who live in modern homes to take up their habitation in dank caves.

Tom Watson and Rev. Walker are trying to form what they call the "Protestant League." They are going into politics for the purpose of "saving the Republic." They fear a massacre of Protestants by Catholics. If they ever get a square look at themselves in the mirror they will see the joke which makes me laugh. Among other things, the purpose of their "Protestant League" is to "abolish the monasteries and nunneries, suppress the Sisters of Charity and prohibit the operation of parochial schools." They have undertaken a tremendous task. In the first place they must change the organic law of the land, which declares that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." In the next place, it will be necessary to convince the people that the association of the Sisters of Charity is an evil thing; that it is monstrous to care for the weak, lift the fallen, administer to the sick and wounded, or comfort the dying. After that it must be shown that parents have no right to send their children to the schools of their choice. In other words, they must assassinate Liberty in cold blood, and upon the ruins of her sacred temple establish the throne of despotism.

The population of the United States is composed of about 30,000,000 Catholic and Protestant church members and 70,000,000 people who belong to no church. The great mass of non-church members believe in fair play in religious liberty. They would oppose the efforts of any Protestant or Catholic League to change the fundamental law of the Republic so as to rob any citizen of his religious rights. Watson and Walker are wasting their time in forming a "Protestant League." Not one Protestant in a hundred can be induced to join it. The spirit of Progress has liberalized the adherents of all religions. The doctrine of equal liberty, like an army with banners, is driving the cohorts of bigotry from the earth. A creed depending upon despotism for advancement can not travel far in this age. A religion which can not lock arms with Liberty and march toward the rising sun is bound to perish from the earth.

From a prelate residing at the Vatican and who sees Pope Pius X. every day it is learned that there was no foundation for the many contradictory reports concerning the health of the Holy Father. Like others, the Pope suffers from the heat, but still takes his daily walks in the Vatican gardens. The only requirement of the Pope's physicians is that he shall take a day of rest occasionally.

Always in front rank where flies the Stars and Stripes, the Irish-Americans were much in evidence in the Olympic games at Stockholm and contributed largely to the glorious victory credited the United States. In the track and field events the United States scored as many points as did the eleven other competing nations.

That the marriage laws need amendment was again made apparent Saturday, when the Jefferson Circuit Court granted twenty divorces. Under the present statutes homes and families are disrupted upon the most flimsy pretenses.

Dr. Swallow does not make the Prohibition party. The Atlantic City convention again sat down on him after a long wrangle over his resolution striking at Christian education.

Edward J. McElroy will be gubernatorial chair at the convention, leaving everyone convinced that he should be the next Governor of Kentucky.

The United States having supplied the capital and built the Panama canal, should have control thereof and favor American vessels.

SPRING BANK LAWN FETE.

Great promises of a successful lawn fete and outing are expected to be realized by the Catholic Woman's Club when they give their benefit lawn fete, card party and supper at Spring Bank on Wednesday, July 31. The committee in charge will leave nothing undone to provide a good time for everybody, and it is earnestly hoped there will be a large crowd present. John Graves, Jacob Hubbuck and Al Smith will be the managers, with Mrs. John Buschmeyer as General Chairman. Among the ladies heading the various committees are Misses Kate Collins, Maggie Wallace, Jennie Kirkup, Blanche Gordon and Mesdames B. J. Jansing, Charles Smith, J. P. Patrick Monaghan, Secretary to the Right Rev. Denis O'Donnoghue. Father Monaghan sang the high mass, assisted by Father McAleer as subdeacon and Father Melody as subdeacon. Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., pastor of St. Patrick's, preached the sermon, pronounced by those who heard it one of his best efforts. Following the church services Father Monaghan read the officiating clergy were the guests of Father Cronin.

While crossing the bed of a creek the front wheels of his wagon struck a rock and he fell to the ground, the front

BONZANO.

Apostolic Delegate Interviewed on World's Present Day Conditions.

Love of Luxury, Bad Books and Bad Newspapers Are Faults.

Catholic Church Does Not Send Round Professional Revivalists.

WHY HE OPPOSES SOCIALISM

James B. Morrow, the well known newspaper writer, had a long and interesting interview with Archbishop Bonzano, the Apostolic Delegate at Washington, whom he described as a spare, refined man, with brown hair and eyes, and an animated and handsome face. He may be forty years old, but whatever his age, he is a seasoned missionary and priest and learned in the laws of his church. No doubt he will be a Cardinal some time. Even the Papacy may be within the possibilities of his career. Leo XIII. and Pius X. have shown great wisdom in sending their agents to the United States. They have selected traveled men of the world, and men who spoke the language of the people.

When asked did he believe the world is growing better or did he think it was growing worse, the Apostolic Delegate replied: "That is a complicated subject. If you mean materially, my answer is yes. We are living better than at any time in history. The poor are better fed, clothed and housed. Relatively, matching this age with those which are past, there is great prosperity everywhere. Railroads and telegraph and telephone wires make communication cheap and easy. But if your inquiry relates to spirituality, then I would hesitate to give you an answer. We say the world is kinder than it used to be. Furthermore it is more just and peaceful. I thank God it is so. But we must not confuse external man with internal man. I have known pagans who were benevolent, obliging and merciful. Still that is not enough. Our Saviour said: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind.'"

"What are some of the faults of the twentieth century?"
"The love of luxury is one of them. Bad books and bad newspapers are another. The press is a great uplifting force, and promotes honesty, justice and liberty, but many newspapers seem to make a specialty of articles about crime. Such articles are degrading to every one, and by what is called the process of suggestion often lead the ignorant and the weak into wrong thinking and acting. A good man by his example sweetens life around him. A bad man does harm to others by the manner of his conduct and conversation. It is exactly the same with newspapers and books. I believe in the freedom of the press, but I also believe in the moral accountability of writers and publishers."

"Do Catholic priests have the same difficulty in getting men to attend church that is experienced by Protestant ministers?"
"You are asking me some strange questions," Archbishop Bonzano answered with a smile and a shrug of his shoulders. "It is the duty of all Catholics to be present at church—they are so taught during childhood by their mothers and their priests. We believe in sleeping the minds of the young. 'Train up a child in the way he should go,' Solomon wrote, 'and when he is old he will not depart from it.' Our men, for the most part, attend church if they are not working. You will see them any Sunday in any city or village going and coming. At one church in New York as many as 5,000 men, all night workers, go to mass at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning."

"Why do you oppose Socialism?"
"Because it is irreligious. Socialists say they are attempting to establish a paradise on earth. They are not interested in the life that is to come. Scoffing at things of the spirit, they dwell only on the things of the present. They are anti-Christian, and in Europe practice the hideous doctrine of free love, thus striking at the home and at the very foundation of civilization. Socialism is a coarse materialistic. It destroys human character. Catholicism protects the home and upholds the character. Moreover, Socialism attacks property, not alone the mills and factories of the rich, but the cottages of the poor, which were raised up by thrift, industry and self-sacrifice. Oh, there are many reasons why the church is antagonistic to Socialism, but I have mentioned those which are fundamental and stand out above the rest."

"That is another uncommon inquiry," the Archbishop replied, "and yet I must say that it is interesting. Yes, we are counseled to be brave. Every student understands that his life is to be a life of personal sacrifice. In himself he is nothing. All that he is and all that he has—his body with the rest—he gives to God. Domestic ties do not anchor him to the earth. He goes where he is sent, nor is he permitted to leave his post. If he is in a small village and every one is ill with smallpox, he must remain and answer all calls to minister to the dying and to bury the dead. He would be disgraced were he to run away, as a soldier would be dishonored were to slink off and hide behind a tree during an open battle. At the fire in the Equitable Building over in New York, priests went among the falling walls to administer extreme unction to several injured men, priests were busy about their duties when the Titanic sank at sea. The newspapers often refer to what they call the heroism of Catholic priests. It may be heroism to the world, but it is not so with us. In China we anointed lepers with our naked hands and thought nothing of it. They were outcasts, and had been deserted by their relatives and friends. And how grateful they were in their horrible suffering for a little human sympathy, and the preparation we gave them for the grave. Shall a man of God be afraid? Then would his faith be weak, indeed!"

"Does the Catholic church send professional revivalists around to stir up and convert sinners?"
"Oh, no, no. Educated and refined men with special missions preach in many of our parishes once a year, but their meetings are never sensational. They are not rough-spoken, and are free from theatrical methods. With us, the houses of God are places of solemnity and worship."

PLAY DON HODGES.
The Doerhoefer & Heffernans will play the Don Hodges team at the former's grounds, Thirty-sixth and Walnut streets, tomorrow afternoon, and the Don Hodges team will endeavor to break the winning streak of the D. & H. club, who have been winning over some of the best amateur teams around this locality this season, last Sunday defeating the All Stars, a semi-professional aggregation.

POLICE VACATIONS.
Major Patrick Ridge, Night Chief of Police, is expected home tomorrow from Bedford, Ind., where he has been spending his vacation as the guest of his mother. Lieut. George Clifford, Patrolmen Frank P. Driscoll, John D. Carroll, J. P. Connelly, J. J. Lepping and George W. Smith will now start on their ten days' annual vacation.

CARDINAL DESIGNATED.
His Holiness has designated Cardinal Willem von Rossum, C. SS. R., to preside over the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Vienna September 12-15 next, with the title of Pontifical Legate.

PEELING ORANGES.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Niagara Falls, Ont., has now a council.

The council at Albany, Ore., will initiate a class of about thirty-five July 28.

The new building being erected by Calumet Council in Chicago will cost $75,000.

The Knights of Portland, Ore., now conduct a lunch room in their club building.

The Knights of Boulder, Col., held a special meeting for the initiation of candidates.

Before leaving Decatur for Fort Wayne the Rev. Father Flaherty was presented $50 by the Knights as a token of esteem.

Colorado Springs Knights have arranged an elaborate programme for the entertainment of the Supreme Council next month.

Tomorrow a large class will be initiated at Columbus, Ind. Dr. Thomas P. Hart, of the Catholic Telegraph, will exemplify the second degree.

A large number of visiting Knights are expected when Elizabethtown Council gives its annual outing on August 6 at Cave Spring, near that city.

A class of forty will receive the degrees at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on July 28. The initiation will be directed by State Deputy Jess B. Hawley, son of Gov. Hawley.

Bishop McGovern will celebrate the Pontifical mass preceding the opening session of the Supreme Council at Colorado Springs. The sermon will be preached by the Most Rev. John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis.

During their stay in Colorado Springs delegates and visitors attending the Supreme Council will be shown the Peak, Cripple Creek and Victor gold mining districts; Crystal Park, Seven Falls, Cave of the Winds, Garden of the Gods, North and South Cheyenne Canyons, Palmer Lake and countless other points of interest which can not be duplicated anywhere in the world.

CATHEDRAL DEDICATION.

The Wichita Cathedral will be dedicated on Thursday, September 19, when Cardinal Gibbons will officiate. The Knights of Columbus have begun to arrange the secular part of the programme. On Wednesday afternoon, September 18, they expect to initiate 100 members. It will be called "the Cardinal's class." In the evening they hope to fill the Forum with an attraction as rare and unusual as the dedication of a Cathedral, and that is a concert given by the Gregorian choir of the Catholic congregations of St. Louis. This choir is famous.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE UNION.

The forty-second annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America will be held at Notre Dame, Ind., beginning August 6 and continuing four days. Many high church dignitaries will attend the convention, and at the mass opening the convention the Archbishop of Dubuque, Most Rev. James J. Keane, will preach the sermon.

ANOTHER IRISH PROJECT.

A company with a guaranteed capital of $6,500,000 has been formed to construct a railroad from Collooney Junction in Sligo to Belmullet in Mayo. Besides constructing the railroad the new company will also build harbor works at Belmullet, which the projectors believe will make the latter port the finest in western Ireland.

PIPERS ARE COMING.

It is announced from Dublin that Richard Croker will send a party of six Irish pipers with their war pipes to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

ONE EVERY DAY.

Last year there were erected and dedicated to the worship of God in the United States 478 Catholic churches, one church in every twenty-four hours.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Black and white Chantilly is a favorite trimming for the frock of soft satin, chiffon and pompadour taffetas.

Embroided net and Oriental lace flouncings and bandings are lavishly used on inexpensive frocks with effective results.

The "Apache" is a collar nothing more nor less than an adaptation of the Byron collar, cut wide in front and rolling sides and back.

One special feature of the present season is certainly the sash. It takes many forms and variations, but the old conventional sash of two plain flowing ends is almost forgotten.

For quite young girls there are narrow belts of black patent kid, having at back and front small insets of suede in plain plaid designs and colors, and buckles of the trunk type in gilt or German silver.

A present mode that is likely to influence the coming fashions is the favor shown the quaint toile de Jouy patterns, which this season have been reproduced in taffets, in silk mousseline and in chiffons.

CHRISTIAN PATRIOTISM.

Edmund Burke, that noble statesman who stood as America's staunch friend in its early days, asserted: "It is not enough that a statesman means well; duty demands that that which is right should not only be made known, but be made prevalent—that what is evil should not only be detected, but be defeated."

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The net gain of the order last year was 2,450.

Not one of the large membership of Division 3 is on the sick list.

With the Ancient Order are now sixty fully equipped military companies.

The Kentucky State convention will be held in Louisville, opening on August 26.

The Jeffersonville Ladies' Auxiliary sent a splendid delegation to Chicago this week.

Secretary McGinniss' report shows the Ancient Order now exists in fifty States of the Union.

State Vice President P. J. Kane, of Paris, was with the Kentuckians at the Chicago convention.

Hibernians of Kokomo are making extensive preparation for the Indiana State convention there August 6.

State Treasurer Thomas Howard, of Ashland, was one of the moving spirits in the Kentucky delegation at Chicago.

Five thousand people, many from out of town, attended the Hibernian field day exercises and outing at Syracuse.

Secretary McGinniss reports the order in excellent condition financially, its total assets aggregating $2,116,859.

With all expenses paid there was in the hands of the National Treasurer the sum of $934,615 when the national convention met Monday.

Former Councilman Lawrence Ford, County President of Jeffersonville, was one of the big men from Indiana at the Chicago convention.

Division 4 will meet Monday night and he the first to receive reports from the national convention. A large attendance of members is expected.

During the past two years the Ancient Order expended nearly half a million dollars for sick and death benefits and charity. Not many societies can boast such a record.

Though success is already assured, Tom Quinn and his committee are working hard to bring out a record crowd for the Hibernian Social Club midnight excursion on Monday, July 29.

The Covington delegation to the national convention included State President George E. Donnelly, County President M. J. Sheppard, Division President Thomas Conry, Judge M. T. Shine, P. J. Carroll, Thomas Donnelly and Thomas Towers.

GROCCERS

Will Have Their Annual Celebration Next

On Thursday, July 25, groceries of the city will be closed at noon, in order to permit the grocers, the clerks and families to attend the annual outing of the Retail Grocers' Association of Louisville, which will be given at Fontaine Ferry Park. As usual, the feature of the picnic will be the "country store," where the grocers will attempt to reduce the cost of "high living" for one day at least by selling everything from watermelons to barrels of flour and loads of coal at ten cents. A barrel of sugar will be disposed of at ten cents, and a nice refrigerator will be obtained at the same figure. This year a wheel of fortune, in charge of George H. Young and Will P. McDonogh, will be one of the new features, whereas Vitus Wellington is having a coffee wheel shipped on from New York to be used at this outing.

William J. Imorde has been named General Cashier, J. F. Storch is Chairman of Committee on Country Store Tickets, G. A. Brucker, Chairman of Badge Committee, President John Keller will have charge of the dancing pavilion. Tickets are being distributed by all grocers, and can be had free of charge.

CATHOLIC BASEBALL LEAGUE.

The results in the Catholic Baseball League last Sunday served to tighten up the race in that hustling league and from now on there will be lots of good natured rivalry for first division places in the pennant race. Tomorrow the St. Charles team, the leaders, will journey to New Albany and meet Holy Trinity, accompanied by Lee Osterman and his band of rooters. The heavy hitting St. William team will meet St. Martin at Spring Bank, Manager Ed Wolfe's St. Louis Bertrand team and Manager Tom Cline's Holy Cross club will battle for supremacy at Shawnee Park, and Henry Schulz' Improved St. Brigid team will contest with St. Anthony at the same place. Four teams are tied for third place, and tomorrow's results will cause quite a change in the standing, which is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
St. Charles	10	2	.834
St. William	9	3	.750
St. Louis Bertrand	6	6	.500
St. Anthony	6	6	.500
Holy Cross	6	6	.500
Holy Trinity	6	6	.500
St. Brigid	4	8	.334
St. Martin	1	11	.091

FOUNTAIN FERRY.

Originally will run a race with fun in the attractions that will hold forth at Fountain Ferry Park next week. The vaudeville theater continues the magnet, and here the heat is forgotten. Natiello and his men will occupy the Ferry band shell for two free concerts daily, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. The people of Louisville have now come to realize that a few hours spent at this popular place overcomes the tired and dragged out feeling from which all suffer during the heated term.

The news of the death of P. J. Soraghan, M. D., of Belturbet, which occurred at a private hospital in Dublin, has caused deep regret.

Westport Board of guardians, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution of protest against the imposition of an extra police tax on the district.

At a meeting of the Mayo County Council M. J. O'Boyle, Ballina, was unanimously appointed Assistant County Surveyor for Claremorris Union.

IN TWIN CITIES.

The Colonels meet the St. Paul club again this afternoon and play a double-header and cross the river tomorrow to play a four-game series at Minneapolis, who are making a desperate bid to overtake Columbus in the pennant race. After the series with the Millers Manager Hayden's hopefuls will journey to Indianapolis for five games, which will go a long way in settling the dispute for the disputed cellar position, then returning home, opening with Kansas City on Monday, July 29. Although not wholly satisfied with the club's showing on the road, many of the fans believe that several of the games were lost through hard luck, especially two at Kansas City, when the Colonels lost in the last two innings of play. On paper the Colonels look as strong as any team in the league, especially with Hayden back in the line-up, and about the only department needing to be strengthened is the catching staff, which does not compare favorably with the other clubs.

RIVERVIEW.

The sweltering weather of the past week drove the people to River-view Park in large numbers, where on the cool river bank the heat is forgotten. The breezes from the knobs in Indiana seem to carry a message of vitality and afford refreshing relief. A strong bid for the crowds which never get far enough away from the theatrical season to lose their interest in the drama will be made next week, when the River-view players will give high class performances every evening. All the various park amusements are enjoying good patronage, while Don Philipini and his band continue to grow in public favor.

WELCOMED AT NAZARETH.

Sister Martine and Sister Mary Linus, of St. Vincent's Infirmary at Little Rock, accompanied by Sister Lucy and Sister Marietta, from Pine Bluff, Ark., arrived last week at Nazareth, where they made the report preceding the election of the Mother General of the Sisters of Nazareth.
